SCENE (1)

As the first [act] of the FW/26 Fashion Runway Show began, an unexpected moment of performance art unfolded. Two of the models, Danya and Cy, took their seats before the audience and, in a deliberate and quiet moment, both models had their heads shaved prior to stepping onto the runway. The room fell into a deep silence. No music, no commentary, only the soft mechanical hum of clippers cutting through hair.

This act felt both intimate and performative, a striking prelude that goes against the traditional cadence of a fashion presentation. Inviting the audience to witness vulnerability, reinvention, and rebellion; in real time. The atmosphere was tense yet magnetic, charged with curiosity and quiet anticipation. By the time Danya and Cy rose to take their walk, the transformation had already set the tone. Impossible to ignore. Photo(s): ALE, Photography Director, @lewkmagazinetx

RUNWAY (2)

Runway [recap] of the FW/26 Fashion Runway Show shot by "ALE". Clothing/Design: "Addictedtothephone"

As the FW/26 Fashion Runway Show by Addictedtothephone unfolded, Every model represented a unique piece of the collection created for the fw/26 show. Held at "Veterans of Foreign Wars - Capitol City Post Sat, Feb 21 at 8:00 PM - 12:00 AM (CST)" The venue perfectly matched the aesthetic that the brand was trying to achieve. The casting felt purposeful—every face, silhouette, and stride reinforcing the conceptual framework behind FW/26.

There is ICE that seems like it does not melt, they stay hard and rigid at the core, it seems as this ICE is "indestructible", they're not, they're really not.

8,279,047,050 beautiful souls alive in this beautiful world that we've taken so for granted. To put this in perspective.... that is roughly 8 BILLION PEOPLE that exist on our amazing planet.... There can only be so many ignorant, nasty, amoral people that exist in a small percentage of that number.... "1%ers" Wealth can make it seem as if these people are bigger than they are, but... 1% of the population is not that big of a number if you really think about it. As more violence continues to spread in this beautiful, gorgeous world that we are so very lucky to get to experience in the first place,

ICE is a government installed organization which persistently (in contradiction to law and the constitution) disrespects the foundation of American societal equilibrium—relativism. Men, women, CHILDREN; all kidnapped and stripped of their basic humans rights because of a political agenda. Beyond that, an insidious group of insanely-wealthy co-conspirators who are determined to enslave humanity to fulfill the furthest extent of their most greedy desires.

we the people can not take these things lightly.

Addictedtothephone™ FW/26 Runway Show

" Being scared of what's going on is completely rational and obviously involuntary, but not helpful. You don't have to read everything at once, but acting like avoiding the news protects you is what will keep you uninformed when the worst shit arrives directly to you. It already arrived to our neighbors, regardless of whether they only got a few people. They don't even discriminate anymore since black people are questioned and a white girl was even shot. This is your life. This is real life.

The Epstein and ICE shit is genuinely the lowest concern of the future btw...
